As a passionate walker, I can tell you there is no finer way to experience Autumn’s wonderful colours and aromas than on foot. So I’m particularly excited to introduce the new programme of guided walks and activities taking place this September for the second Chilterns Walking Festival. From Hitchin in Hertfordshire to Goring in Oxfordshire, there are opportunities to enjoy beech woodlands, nature reserves and riversides in the expert care of a knowledgeable guide. The Spring festival helped people explore different areas, and encouraged many who were new to walking in the countryside. I very much hope this continues. There’s easy online booking; accessible, child and dog friendly options, most walks are free of charge and also offer fantastic health benefits. On behalf of everyone involved I wish you a fantastic time and invite you to share your #Chilterns experiences with us on Facebook and Twitter.

Happy walking!

Sue Holden, Chief Officer, Chilterns Conservation Board

- Sonning Common Health Walks - www.sonningcommonhealthwalks.co.uk
- Chalgrove Health Walks Group, Oxfordshire - www.chalgrove.info/sport-leisure/chalgrove-health-walks.aspx

The walks are all sociable and you don’t need any special equipment to join in, just comfortable shoes. The programme runs year round and offers a choice of different walk grades, ranging from 30-90 minutes, start points and times, including weekdays and weekends. You generally don’t need to book, but make sure you read the individual walk entry before you set off!

<td>It is not a well-publicised fact that the UK has the best detailed maps, most readily available to the public, in the world. There is also poor awareness that we have access to our countryside through a web of public ways, some of which date back millennia. This day long practical workshop aims to put the two together, giving participants the confidence to plan their own walks and to go on them, without fear of getting lost. Do you have the Heart of a Ranger?

Enjoy nature, the Chilterns and doing something good for your community?

We have many exciting conservation volunteering opportunities for you!

We work throughout the Chilterns to improve our local habitats and we need many helping hands...

Get in touch!

The Chiltern Society is a registered charity with over 7,000 members and 500 active volunteers dedicated to conserving, celebrating and caring for the Chilterns. We work very closely with the Chilterns Conservation Board and encouraging people to explore the thousands of miles of paths in the Chilterns on foot has always been a fundamental part of what we do. So, naturally, we’re delighted to be sponsoring a festival which aims to help people discover and enjoy our countryside through walking and other recreational activities. Walking is a great way to immerse yourself in the landscape, and we hope that local people and visitors alike will get involved and reap the benefits. To find out more about our work, join one of our walks, see our website www.chilternsociety.org.uk or become a member.
Thank you

This project has been part funded by The European Agricultural Fund or Rural Development through the Chilterns LEADER programme. The grant received through this programme has helped make these festivals happen. www.leader-programme.org.uk/areas/chillterns.html
